Committee to an Advisory Board when the College recognized the SDM as an academic program. However, the SDM Program is fundamentally a hybrid of a faculty governance committee, specifically Curriculum Committee from which it evolved, and an academic program. Therefore, it requires recognition as both a faculty governance committee and as an interdisciplinary program with a program director performing the day administrative functions similar to those of a department chair. When the change was made to the faculty governance system, the SDM committee remains in faculty governance responsibility. It is important and necessary to recognize To
