

Natalie Fuehrer Taylor
Skidmore College
815 North Broadway
Saratoga Springs, NY 12866
(518) 5805243
ntaylor@skidmore.edu

Education:

- Ph.D. Fordham University
May 2004
Major Field: Political Theory
Minor Fields: American Politics
Comparative Politics
Languages: French, German
Dissertation: "The Rights of Woman as Chimera: The Political Philosophy of Mary Wollstonecraft"
Mentor: Dr. Mary Nichols
- M.A. Fordham University
May, 1997
Major: Political Science
Concentration: Political Theory
- B.A. Kenyon College
May, 1992
Major: Political Science
Honors Thesis: "The Intellectual Freedom of John Locke"

Fellowships, Grants, Awards:

- Skidmore College Faculty Development Grant, 2007
- Bradley Foundation Dissertation Fellowship, 2002
- Fordham University Dissertation Fellowship, 2001
- Earhart Fellowship, academic years 1998, 1999-2000.
- Presidential Scholarship, Fordham University, academic years 2005 inclusive.
- Graduate Assistantship, Fordham

The Annual meetings of the American Political Science Association, September 2010, paper,
"Som

“Henry Adams’s Literary Statesmanship Democracy,” McConnell Center, University of Louisville, January 2011.

“What the Pretty Woman Can Learn from the Hyena in Petticoats: Mary Wollstonecraft’s Lessons for Julia Roberts & the ‘Feminist’ Generation,” University of Notre Dame February 2007.

Teaching Experience:

Skidmore College (2002)

Associate Professor of Government (2002)

Assistant Professor, Department of Government (2004)

Visiting Instructor, Department of Government (2004)

“Liberal Studies I”

“U.S. Government Institutions”

“Politics of Contemporary United States Social Movements”

“Current Issues in Public Policy”

“Feminist Political Thought”

“American Party System”

“American Political Thought”

“Educating Citizens for the American Republic”

Ashland University, Master of American History and Government (Summer 2008, 2010-2011)

“The American Revolution”

“The Reform Tradition in America”

Oglethorpe University 2010-2011

presented at the annual meetings of the APSA.

Secretary/Treasurer, Politics, Literature & Film Organized Section of the American Political Science Association (2008-2009)

Manuscript Review, "Marital Friendship and Unity in Mid-20th Century Political Thought," for Perspectives in Political Science